

Microsoft Office® Connector

Work the way you work.

Time to get work done. With blueKiwi's Connector for Microsoft Office you can connect and collaborate within your company's enterprise social network, from the applications you are already using, including Microsoft Word, Excel, and PowerPoint.

Work efficiently. With one click, share and collaborate on a document, spreadsheet, or presentation.

blueKiwi Microsoft Office Connector

blueKiwi helps users become more efficient by providing access to their enterprise social network directly from Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint. With immediate access to their collaborative community, the blueKiwi Microsoft Office Connector simplifies routine tasks and enables users to quickly and easily share a document, spreadsheet, or presentation.

No more downloading a file, opening it, making changes, and saving/renaming it. With blueKiwi's Office Connector, you simply post the changes directly from the Office program you're using. Users are able to improve content sharing from the enterprise social network—eliminating the need for document management systems, and unifying business collaboration.

Simplify collaboration

For employees new to enterprise social networking, the blueKiwi Microsoft Office Connector can help simplify the transition to a more collaborative work environment. They can easily leverage the applications they are already know and use to quickly improve their collaboration skills, and become more business social.

With blueKiwi, everything you need to work more productively is now in one place. And, peer review and feedback cycles just got easier. The blueKiwi Connector for Microsoft Office eliminates the need to share each version as an email attachment, simplifying workflows and review cycles, and saving colleagues valuable time.

Add one to the win column.

The blueKiwi Microsoft Office connector eliminates the need for a document management system because access to files, sharing with others, and all document version management processes are all centrally managed by blueKiwi. As a user, you have instant access to all of the documents you need. Add one to the win column; because it's one less system your employees need to learn.

Features

The blueKiwi connector for Microsoft Office lets you:

Seamlessly integrate with your environment. Installation and management is simple and can be done individually or enterprise wide. The blueKiwi icon appears directly in application menu and toolbars.

Improve content sharing. Now you can post any Word, Excel or PowerPoint file to your social network directly from the application or easily access any file being shared in your network directly from Office.

Stay connected to your social network. Gain direct access to social network information such as ratings, comments, annotations, and tags, right from your Office application.

Maintain better control. Automatic functionality between Office and blueKiwi allows you to review, edit, and save without leaving Office.

Eliminate 'check in' / 'check out'. Complex document management systems are no longer needed. Versioning of edited documents is streamlined and maintained all within blueKiwi – and notifications of changes or new versions are automatically sent to all who have access.
