

Healthcare data

The currency of cyber trust

36%

of people

stated that their medical details were the personal details they valued the most

12%

of people

believe healthcare organisations are most able to protect themselves from a cyber attack

10%

of people

said that healthcare services was the area in their life they considered to be most at risk to a cyber-attack

Security

expected to be in place

51%

of people

expect healthcare organisations to have data encryption in place

37%

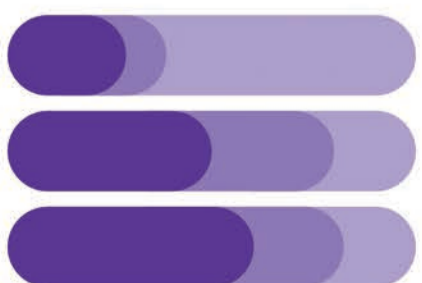

of people

expect healthcare organisations to have password/PIN managers in place

26%

of people

expect healthcare organisations to have multi-factor authentication in place

Atos