

Press Release

Atos in Thailand is a Great Place to Work®

Bangkok, Thailand. 26 April 2022. As a leading global digital services company, Atos in Thailand has been accredited with Great Place to Work® which denotes the voice of employees and distinguishes Atos in Thailand as a choice employer.

This certificate demonstrates best practices for employees and provides a positive employee experience. 75% of employees from Thailand say that they value working in a company that values them. This includes Atos' commitment to both social and environmental causes.

This certification is a second award with marked improvement in both Trust and Culture audits.

The challenges and quick response from senior stakeholders during the pandemic had been key motivators in the results that were achieved. During the transition period to Work from Home, Managers' support has been instrumental in deepening the relationships and overall connection among employees.

In addition, Atos Thailand runs a mature learning and development program, 'We are Atos' internal engagement initiative, a comprehensive career planning and development strategy with company-wide clear communications to ensure that everyone is aligned to their future development and growth.

"I am very pleased that our efforts are recognized by our talents. There is still much to do. This feedback via the Great Place to Work survey is a great start, one that I hope to nurture continuously." says, Neville Smith, Country Manager, Thailand.

Great Place to Work® allows Atos to brand itself as a company that cares and wins customer attention, and loyalty and attract talented new hires. The certification helps build brand recognition and actionable insights to drive real business results.
