SOUNDS OF SCIENCE

When Science meets Music...
Merci !

"Science is the music of the intellect, and Music is the science of the heart"

This is in this fruitful relationship between Science and Music that "Sounds of Science" finds its roots.

The project was born in the mind of Professor Jean-Marie Lehn and came to life for the first time in 2018. After the 2020 edition was canceled due to Covid-19, the second edition of "Sounds of Science" held on June 23rd, 2022, brought together three world-renowned French scientists alongside a French pianist and composer in the majestic Mayakovsky Hall of the National House of Vinohrady in Prague.

Organising this unique event would not have been possible without the unfaltering support of our sponsors and partners.

The Embassy of France and the French Institute in Prague are pleased to share with you some pictures of the 2022 edition of "Sounds of Science" to relive this wonderful evening where Music and Science met.
