Liberate people potential

Atos

Meeting your AI challenge

Enterprise AI is evolving at an astonishing speed. It's already starting to revolutionize work, helping businesses to thrive and inspiring people to fulfil their true potential. Those who don't invest in AI now run the risk of falling behind and missing out on its amazing capabilities.

Microsoft 365 Copilot is a prime example of the possibilities that AI creates. As a member of the Copilot Early Adopter program, Atos is already seeing exciting results across multiple business domains.

Yet while the benefits of Copilot are clear, so too are the challenges for any business wishing to accelerate AI-enabled transformation. Expert preparation is key, as is a sharp focus on robust governance and targeted returns on investment.

Here's where Atos can help. As an AI pioneer and trusted digital partner, we're here to support a fast-paced journey to make sure you get the best from CoPilot now and in the future.

Why invest in Microsoft 365 Copilot?

Microsoft 365 Copilot is a sophisticated enterprise AI tool that brings boundless opportunities. It's a powerful way to get more from M365 applications, from automating everyday Microsoft Office tasks, to generating creative content and reimagining whole Line of Business processes.

For your business, Copilot is a fast way to enhance employee experience, increase performance and address resourcing challenges. For your people, it eliminates time and effort, freeing them to upskill and to use their creativity and imagination.

At Atos, we're leveraging Copilot in our own business and enabling our customers to do the same. The outcomes we're seeing are impressive, and the journey continues.

Getting the best out of Copilot

We recognize that Copilot is an important investment. You need to know how and where best to deploy it - and to manage its impacts on your people, processes and data, especially any sensitive information.

Working with our experts, you'll access our growing experience with Copilot and other enterprise AI. This includes our end-to-end integration expertise, proofs-of-concept and proven implementation accelerators.

Integrate Copilot safely and securely

Before you unleash any AI, you need to prepare the ground by addressing technical gaps and ensuring the accuracy and governance of all relevant datasets and processes. Hit the ground running with our advisory services to develop your AI and Copilot vision. We'll also work with you to ensure data is protected and AI-ready, with Just Enough Permissions in place to prevent oversharing.

Keep pace as Copilot evolves

With around 40 feature changes to MS 365 every month, you need to continuously adapt your digital workplace landscape. We have tools to identify ongoing implications for your MS 365 estate so that you can maintain control of your innovation roadmap. Your roadmap can include extensions beyond Copilot's standard functionality and integration with other platforms.

Turn limitless possibility into measurable value

A focus on behavioural change is needed to enable dramatic improvements in productivity and performance. We'll help you to drive user adoption and ensure the promised benefits of Copilot are delivered. Once it's deployed, we can monitor trends and use cases to target and maximize returns from your investment in Copilot licensing and governance.

Work with a digital workplace leader

As a recognized global leader in digital workplace services and employee experience, we can support CoPilot as an integral part of your workplace environment. We're uniquely placed to deliver the business outcomes you need, from device lifecycle management and user experience, to service desk and problem resolution.
