

Atos Achieves Microsoft Private Cloud Solution Partner Designation

Paris, France – April 30, 2025 – Atos today announces it has achieved the "Private Cloud Solution Partner Designation." Atos is among the first Microsoft partners to receive this new Microsoft Solution Partner Designation, setting a benchmark for others in the industry. This early adoption showcases Atos' proactive approach and leadership in private cloud solutions. Atos operates 64 data center hubs globally 24/7, and its 12,000 cloud and infrastructure specialists serve more than 1,000 enterprise clients and boast an average customer relationship of more than 10 years.

The Private Cloud Solution Partner Designation underscores Atos' proven track-record in delivering Microsoft solutions on-premises via Windows Server, Azure Local, and Azure Arc, effectively bringing the power of Azure Cloud into data centers worldwide.

This designation is a testament to Atos' commitment to excellence. It has met stringent requirements, skilling certifications and customer use case thresholds. It applies to all market segments, focusing on on-premises customers, ensuring that businesses of all sizes benefit from Atos' expertise.

Atos' new status as a Private Cloud Solution Partner demonstrates its capability to provide secure, reliable, and efficient on-prem Microsoft solutions, assuring customers they are in safe hands with a Microsoft-certified partner.

This achievement highlights Atos' dedication to staying ahead of technological advancements and delivering value to its clients.

Alexa Vandenbempt, Head of Group Partnerships, Atos, said: "This new Microsoft accreditation demonstrates our position as a leader in private cloud services. We are ready to meet the evolving needs of on-premises customers with customized, secure, and efficient private cloud solutions that align with their technological and business needs."
