

Strengthening cyber resilience through advanced pentesting

Collaborative Expertise and Innovation driving cybersecurity progress

A leading multinational insurance group, faces the challenge of securing complex, productive systems while meeting evolving regulatory and business requirements. By partnering with SEC Consult – an Atos business as one of its trusted cybersecurity experts, the insurance group ensures continuous innovation, resilience, and compliance—empowering its core business and paving the way for future growth.

The Challenge

- An Austrian based multilateral company has to combine general resilience and following future requirements with local priorities and circumstances.
- The challenge was and is to check also productive systems like a group wide portal as well as web apps and also physical security with infrastructure assessments.
- SEC Consult – An Atos business as one of 3 dedicated security partners plus internal Security Specialists is challenged every year to extend innovation, reliability and quality to succeed in a highly competitive surrounding

The Solution

- Team of management, Program manager, Account manager in permanent touch and exchange
- Innovations in resilience and updates in training and certifications of consultants
- Supporting the company in their core business by supporting development of cybersecurity insurance

Outcomes

- Awareness for SEC Consult – An Atos business as full service partner for all issues in cybersecurity
- White listing for recommendation for Insurance business customers
- Participation in many tenders