

Accelerating your Digital Workplace Intelligence

Atos

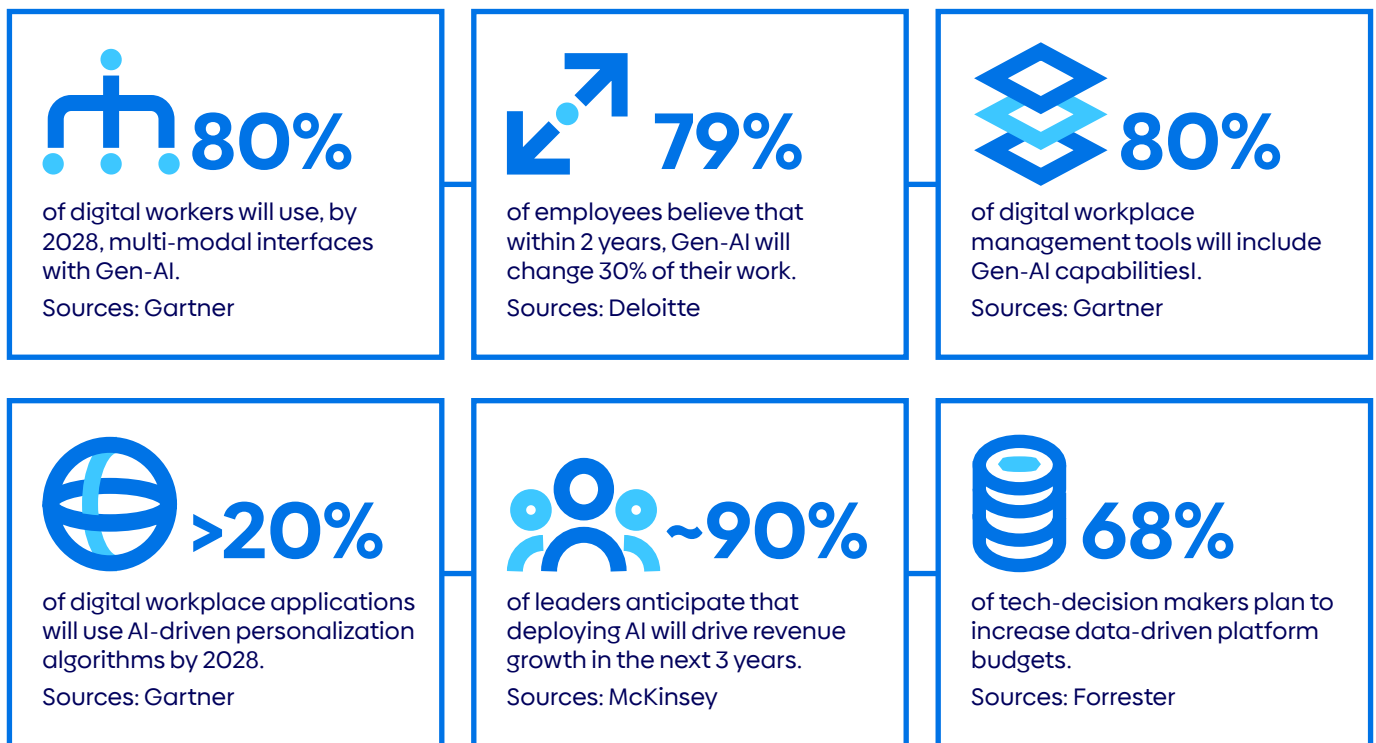

Work is being reinvented. Powered by AI, data, and new expectations, the digital workplace is entering a new era.

With Generative and Agentic AI, organizations are shifting toward an autonomous, experience-driven, and intelligent workplace, where AI doesn't just assist, but acts, learns, and orchestrates work alongside people. The result: faster decisions, seamless collaboration, and personalized experiences at scale.

To succeed, organizations must build strong data foundations, ensure sovereignty, and design for resilience, while placing employee experience at the core.

Now is the time to accelerate your digital workplace intelligence.

Reimagine your workplace where AI amplifies human potential, teams move faster, and technology drives meaningful, sustainable impact.

“ The digital workplace is evolving amid rising investment in AI, the new emphasis on digital employee experience and changing demands on IT. This roadmap outlines the technology, talent and process changes that digital workplace leaders must address as they build their five-year strategy. ”
